THE BASE-BALL FEVER.

A delightful lawn party was given in Mrs. W. N. Rhodes' yard last night by the boys of the base-ball team. Refreshments were given by the ladies and sold for money to cover the coming expenses of the team. Years ago Cartersyllle boasted of a good team, but of late years, on account of the absence of many of the boys, the game has been little thought of. When vacation returns many of the students from college again become enthusiastic for a home team, and this summer the talking has not been in vain. not been in vain.

The farmers are busy with threshing wheat now. A few have threshed already, and while the wheat crop is a very poor one, in many instances it is turning out better than had been expected.

Bedford Paper Company to I hrow New Dam Across James—Elks' Carnival.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., July 2.—The Bedford Pulp and Paper Company, of Big Island, is preparing to enlarge its plant, and in carrying out their plans they win spend several hundred thousand dollars. The company proposes to erect at once at Coleman's Falls, fifteen miles above Lynchburg, a mili for the grinding of pulp. To do this a new dam to cost between one and two hundred thousand dollars will have to be thrown across the river to take the place or the one that was torn down several years ago under an act of the Legislature. Every bit of the water in the river will be utilized for the development of power, and the grinding capacity of the mill will be semething enormous.

The Lynchburg Ledge of Elks will hold a Carnival here during the first week in October. Preparations for the event are now being made, and it is expected that the Carnival will prove a great success. Messrs. John L. Wray and William L. Lewis, well known tobacconists, have gone to Greenville, N. C., where they will be connected with the Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain.

Mr. James Franklin, Jr., and a number of his young friends have gone to Big Island in Bedford county, on a months' camping expedition. For many years Mr. Franklin has treated his young friends to such an outing. There are about fifteen boys in the party. They have waterproof tents and everything to make camp life comfortable and happy.

AMERICAN BRAINS AND ENTERPRISE

To Build Trolley Lines in England Over Wide Territory-147 Miles of Track.

American brains and enterprise, with American dollars, are about to build in England a system of electric traction lines covering a territory as populous as that of New York city and embracing 147 miles of trackage, says the New York Herald. The lines will run from Liverpool to Manchester, extending in both directions between these two extremes and touching some of the most populous towns of the British Isles.

Thomas A. Nevins, who, in connection with his father, Thomas Nevins, was among the pioneer traction contractors and promoters of the East, is at the head of the enterprise and will sail on Saturday to supervise the work. He and his father are not only to build the lines, but are financing the enterprise as well. The operations will involve $20,000.000. England a system of electric traction prise as well. The operations will involve $20,000,600, all of which will be American capital. The Nevinses are themselves largely interested in the project, and have associated with them New York capitalists.

Many men in the enterprise are inter-ested in the McIropolitan Street Railway and in the North Jersey Traction Com-pany, the corporation which owns all pany, the corporation which owns all the trolley lines of Northern New Jersey. A few years ago the Messrs, Nevlns astonished England by getting a franchise for a trolley line in Cheltenham, which they built and own themselves. But even with this example before them, the English have been slow to appreciate the possibilities of electric roads.

Talking last night at Holly Hall, his hands one residence in Harrison Street.

handsome residence in Harrison Street, East Orange, Mr. Nevins spoke of the lack of enterprise shown by the English in beginning traction enterprises.

"They do not seem to have awakened to the possibilities in electric roads," he said. "American capital can go over there and build lines and make a success of them. Towns in England of large population are to-day without a trolley line. Even the London underground is heing built by Mr. Yerkes and his American friends,

"This new system, the South Lancashire Electric Traction and Power Com-pany, Limited, is a consolidation of several lines, some of which are built, but the greater portion of which remain to be constructed. It includes the South Lancashire tramways, extending for eighty-four miles; the St. Heleas tramways, twenty-two miles; the Liverpool and Prescott Light Railway, three miles, and the proposed extensions of the South Lancashire system, including the Boltor and Darwin Light Railway, twentythree miles.

"In Liverpool the roads belong to the municipality, and Manchester is beginning to build lines under municipal ownership, but the major portion of the country between is undeveloped. Our lines will extend between these two places, down to Warrington, with its population of 63,000, and up to Black-burn, which has 133,600, and Aggrington, with 42,000. Of course, in some of the towns there are small lines already in operation or provided for, but the greater portion of the route will be new, and besides the population in the towns there is a large intermediate population. sufficient to make up a total of three and a half millions, which will be served by the projected system of tramways." Mr. Nevins said that while he and his father had disposed of their holdings in te street car system in Detroit some time ago, they still had extensive interume ago, they still had extensive interests in this country.

"However," he said, "we look upon England as containing our principal interests nowadays, because the field there is so largely undeveloped. We have done a great deal of work in this country and have had large operations here, but this nave nad large operations here, but this country is pretty well supplied now and the field of operations is consequently restricted. In England it is practically unlimited."

Steps Being Taken to Inaugurate Civil Government.

COMPLETE CHANGE OF POWER

Military Authority to Be Superseded by the Civil Government Provided in Bill Passed by Congress-Census to Be Taken.

(Dr Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Chairman Cooper, of the House Committee on Insular Affairs, says steps will be taken at once to put the Philippine government act in operation.

"The first step," said Mr. Cooper to-day, "will be the complete transfer of authority from the military to the civil officials, except in the Moro country, where there is some lingering disorder. The transfer will be accomplished by a The transfer will be accomplished by a proclamation by the President, which, it is said, will be issued on the 4th of July. Besides turning over the authority to the civil officers, the change will permit a considerable reduction of the military force in the islands. Orders already have been contemplated for a reduction to 14,000 men. In 1900 we had 70,000 men in the Philippines, so that we will soon have reduced the force by 52,000, and transfer of authority under the act doubtless will lead to a further the act doubtless will lead to a further reduction before long.

TAKE CENSUS.

"The next step will be to take the census, as provided by the act. Governor Taft told me this work would be begun as soon as he reached Manila. His plan is to have the work done as far as possible by Filipinos, and the commission will get up their own census system instead of having it done by the Census Office at Washington, although they are empowered to get census experts from here by making application to the President. The purpose, however, is to make the work thoroughly a local one, so that it will serve the Filipinos one, so that it will serve the Filipinos as an object lesson.

"The census will take about a year.

"As to the general effect of the act we have just enacted." added Mr. Cooper, "I share the view of Governor Taft, who said that if this bill became a law we would hear no more of the Filipinos than we do of the Porto Ricans and the Philippine would gradually disappear."

Mr. Cooper has received a telegram Mr. Cooper has received a telegram from President J. G. Schurman, of Cor-nell, who was head of the first Philip-pine Commission, reading: Cordial congratulations on your splen-
